

FIFTEEN YEARS OF SERVICE
ADRIAN WORMLEY – JUNE 2000
Senior Officer – Police Department

Education, Training & Licenses:

Adrian is a proud “Trojan” (graduate) from University High School in Waco, Texas. He attended Navarro Junior College, Trinity Valley Junior College and received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Therapeutic Recreation from the University of North Texas (with a minor in Psychology). He holds a Master Peace Officer’s license and has participated in the following training: Firearms, CPR recertification, Defensive Tactics, Tactical Police Driving, and many others. He is actively involved in job-related training courses.

Employment Background & Experience:

His prior employment includes: six years as a Recreation Therapist for Millwood Hospital in Arlington and Harris Methodist Springwood Hospital, four years as a Recreation Tech at the Denton State School, two years as a Police Officer for the Tarrant County Hospital District Police Department, and four years as a Personal Trainer at the YMCA Northeast. Adrian currently serves as the School Resource Officer at Euless Junior High School. Adrian promoted to his current position as a Senior Police Officer in May 2004.

Awards, Recognition, Associations, & Personal Data:

He has received several letters of commendation and is involved in community activities. In his spare time, Adrian enjoys basketball, weight-lifting, and spending time with his family. In 2001, he played with the Dallas Police Department’s basketball team at the Police World Games in Las Vegas, Nevada.

