Eules Receives First Municipal Green Fleet Certification

The City of Eules is proud to announce that we are the first city in the nation to receive the Green Fleet Certification from the Association of Equipment Management Professionals (AEMP). Eules is always seeking innovative ways to improve city services. Fleet and Facilities Administrator Kyle McAdams said, "It's the right thing to do and a smart financial move," he said. "We stretch our citizens' tax dollars to the best of our ability."

The City plans to use AEMP's Green Fleet certification to help distinguish them in the ongoing grant process for further alternative energy efforts. The Green Fleet certification is something that further defines us as a leader in alternative energy and we're very proud of that.
