

EULESS TODAY

Dear Citizens,

I love the month of April. It's a time for transition. The days are getting warmer, the flowers are blooming and there is a sense of renewal and transition.

Part of this Spring's transition includes the General Election on May 2, when Euless residents will be voting on two Council member positions. I'm sorry to say that Salman Bhojani, Council Member and current Mayor Pro Tem, isn't seeking reelection next month. We greatly appreciate all his contributions to the City, most recently as a Councilmember for three years and as a member of the Euless Parks and Leisure Services Board for three years prior to that. His knowledge and love of our City is obvious. Salman is energetic and passionate about giving back to our community, so I expect we will continue to see him volunteering his time to make Euless a great place.

One last note, Euless City offices will be closed on Friday, April 2, but trash and recycling services will not be affected.

Garage Sale Guidelines

The City of Eules is allowing garage sales, while strongly encouraging practices to help maintain health and safety. Please conduct the sale outdoors and follow social distancing practices. We encourage you to make hand sanitizers and disposable disinfecting wipes available. We also encourage everyone to wear masks. When possible, please wipe down surfaces and items for sale that are frequently touched.

Eules residents holding a garage sale can register for free online at www.eulesstx.gov/garagesales or in person at Eules' Planning and Development Office. Please note that garage sales can only occur at an address twice a year. For questions or assistance, please call 817-685-1630 or email permits@eulesstx.gov.

As a bonus, you have the choice of listing your garage sale on Eules' website, where visitors can view a map of upcoming sales.

Discover a Hidden Gem at South Euless Park 600 South Main Street

Head over to South Euless Park for family-friendly fun. This park offers a playground, swing set, outdoor basketball half court and even a Splash Pad. With its shaded tables, barbecue grills, pet station and bathroom facilities, it's the perfect place for family picnics.
