False Alarms

Dear Citizens,

This month, I'd like to highlight the HEB Teen Court, which is a wonderful program that allows juveniles with Class C misdemeanors an alternative to the criminal justice system. After successful completion of the program, their cases are dismissed and do not appear as a conviction on their record.

Teen and adult volunteers are key to the success of Teen Court. The teenagers serve as attorneys, bailiffs and clerks, while the adults assist during court sessions as jury monitors and judges. Together they help defendants take responsibility for their actions. And, as a result of their service, the teen volunteers learn public speaking skills, interviewing techniques and administrative skills. Last semester's teen volunteers even went "above and beyond." They created an excellent video about the Teen Court experience.

You are welcome to observe any Teen Court session. You'll find more information about Teen Court at this website: www.eulesstx.gov/teencourt False alarms have become a great concern for law enforcement agencies everywhere. In the last twelve months, the Euless Police Department responded to over 1,245 false alarms. While police are responding to alarms that turn out to be false, they are less available to respond to alarms that are valid.

In order to reduce the number of false alarms, the Euless City Council approved an ordinance in August of 2009 that requires anyone with an alarm (businesses and residences) to have a permit and spells out penalties for those who do not have a permit.

A yearly registration is required for alarm permit holders. The residential alarm fee is $30 (fee is waived if the permit holder is 65 or older) and the business alarm fee is $100. Applications can now be renewed online through PM/AM Corp by visiting www.famspermit.com/euless or by calling 888-387-7034.

Your Alarm Permit is good for one year and will expire on the last day of the month your permit was issued. If you already have an alarm permit in Euless, you will receive a letter in the mail with your renewal date. There is a fine for operating an alarm system without a permit.

We hope this ordinance will encourage alarm users to properly use and maintain their systems so they will reduce or eliminate false alarms. False alarms consume officer time, waste fuel, increase the risk of accidents and, over time, reduce the quality of police service to other areas with a greater need for officer presence. Our goal is to make Euless a safer place to live for all of our citizens.

National Night Out

Tuesday, October 5, 6:00-9:00 p.m.

Turn on your outside lights, lock your doors and spend the evening outside with 38 million people in more than 16,000 communities. Each year on National Night Out, Eules residents proactively deter crime by organizing a variety of special events within their neighborhoods. Get your neighborhood involved in National Night Out to promote police/community partnerships, and learn about crime prevention while building neighborhood unity. Send a message to criminals letting them know your neighborhood is organized, involved and fighting back.

The Eules Police and Fire Departments invite all neighborhoods in Eules to get together and join with the police and the nation to “take a bite out of crime.” You can request a visit by representatives of the Fire Department at 817-685-1600 or the Police Department at 817-685-1536.

Historical Preservation Committee: Keeping History Alive

The mission of the Eules Historical Preservation Committee is to preserve and promote an awareness of the historical heritage of the area and to demonstrate how it defines current culture and provides a bridge between yesterday, today and tomorrow. The Committee works to preserve and protect the culture, genealogy, archives, structures and historical treasures of the City.

Volunteers are an essential part of this committee. If you would like more information about becoming a volunteer for the Historical Preservation Committee, please call Suzy McCormick at 817-919-1008.

“Learn the Sounds of Fire Safety!”™

Fire Prevention Week October 3 - 9

The Euless Fire Department is teaming up with the National Fire Protection Association® (NFPA®) — the official sponsor of Fire Prevention Week for more than 90 years — to promote this year’s Fire Prevention Week campaign, “Learn the Sounds of Fire Safety!”

Is your smoke or carbon monoxide alarm beeping or chirping? What do those sounds mean? Knowing the difference can save you, your home and your family. Make sure everyone in the home understands the sounds of the smoke and carbon monoxide alarms and knows how to respond. Learn the sounds of your smoke and carbon monoxide alarms by checking the user guide or searching the brand and model online.

Smoke Alarms

- A continued set of three loud beeps — beep, beep, beep — means smoke or fire. Get out, call 9-1-1 and stay out.
- A single “chirp” every 30 or 60 seconds means the battery is low and must be changed.
- All smoke alarms must be replaced after 10 years.
- Chirping that continues after the battery has been replaced means the alarm is at the end of its life and the unit must be replaced.

Carbon Monoxide (CO) Alarms

- A continuous set of four loud beeps — beep, beep, beep, beep — means carbon monoxide is present in your home. Go outside, call 9-1-1 and stay out.
- A single chirp every 30 or 60 seconds means the battery is low and must be replaced.
- CO alarms also have “end of life” sounds that vary by manufacturer. This means it’s time to get a new CO alarm.
- Chirping that continues after the battery has been replaced means the alarm is at the end of its life and the unit must be replaced.

Make sure your smoke and CO alarms meet the needs of everyone in your home, including those with sensory or physical disabilities. There are smoke alarms and alert devices that alert people who are deaf or hard of hearing. These devices include strobe lights that flash to alert people when the smoke alarm sounds. You can purchase pillow or bed shakers designed to work with your smoke alarm.

Fires and carbon monoxide poisoning can occur anywhere, but are much more likely to occur at home. Share this information with your loved ones, so they will know what to do when an alarm goes off or a fire occurs. For more information, visit www.fpw.org.
